

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A pair of lateral structures is removably attached to a vaginal speculum after the speculum is inserted and opened to retract anterior and posterior vaginal tissue.

- 5 Each of the lateral structures includes a blade extending along a side of a space provided between the opposed blades of the vaginal speculum to retract lateral vaginal tissue.